About

Qzone is a social platform for communication and entertainment that enables users to share their lives and interact with friends and relatives anytime and anywhere. On Qzone, users can share and show their true selves freely by maintaining diaries, writing blogs, sharing life stories, uploading photos, live streaming, writing messages, creating music boxes and managing a personal profile.

Qzone allows users to create and decorate their own digital spaces, adding personalized features to the platform, and offering integration with third-party websites and applications to further personalize the experience.
